The Daintree Rainforest is a living testament to nature's grandeur and resilience. As the world's oldest tropical rainforest this area is a sanctuary of unparalleled biodiversity, home to countless unique species of flora and fauna.

This ancient ecosystem, where the rainforest meets the Great Barrier Reef, is a World Heritage site celebrated for its ecological significance and breathtaking beauty.

The Daintree's value lies in its rich biodiversity, ancient plant families, and rare wildlife, including the endangered Southern Cassowary.

These natural treasures not only contribute to global biodiversity but also offer invaluable insights into the Earth's evolutionary history.

Visitors can help preserve this pristine environment by adhering to the following guidelines:

- Stay on designated paths to minimize habitat disturbance.
- Drive slowly on all roads to avoid hitting wildlife.
- Avoid touching or disturbing wildlife to maintain their natural behaviours.
- Respect the wishes of Eastern Kuku Yalanji by heeding signs to stay away from areas of cultural significance.
- Dispose of waste properly to prevent pollution.
- Support local conservation efforts by participating in eco-friendly tours and donating to preservation initiatives.

By respecting these guidelines, you contribute to the ongoing protection of the Daintree Rainforest, ensuring its wonders endure for future generations. Enjoy your visit and marvel at the timeless beauty of this extraordinary natural haven.

Swimming

During summer months (usually November to May but the season may differ by a matter of months depending on weather conditions) it is not advisable to swim in the ocean without seeking advice from local operators as stinging jellyfish may be present.

Throughout the year, it is always advisable to consult with local information centres and/or with local operators before entering waterways, and always avoid creek mouths, tributaries and the Daintree River or any other area where Crocodile warning signs are present.

There is one location in Cape Tribulation considered safe to swim and that is Mason's Water Hole (Entry at Mason's Café & Store - gold coin entry fee)

Crocwise in croc country

Crocodiles are potentially dangerous. Never take unnecessary risks in crocodile habitat. Everyone is responsible for their own safety, so please follow these guidelines and be crocwise in croc country.

- Obey crocodile signs—they are there for your own protection.
- Never swim in water where crocodiles may live, even if there is no warning sign present.
- When fishing, always stand a few metres back from the water's edge and never stand on logs or branches overhanging the water.
- Never clean fish or discard fish scraps near the water's edge or at boat ramps.
- Stay well back from any crocodile slide marks. Crocodiles may still be close and may approach people and boats.
- Never dangle your arms or legs over the side of a boat. If you fall out of a boat, get out of the water as quickly as possible.
- Never provoke, harass or interfere with crocodiles—even small ones.
- Never feed crocodiles—it is illegal and dangerous.
- Camp at least two metres above the high-water mark and at least 50 metres from the water's edge. Avoid places where native animals and domestic stock drink.
- Never leave food scraps at your campsite. Always check that previous campers have left no food scraps.
- Never prepare food, wash dishes or pursue any other activities near the water's edge or adjacent sloping banks.
- Be more aware of crocodiles during the breeding season—September to April.
